NEW CREATIONS

"But he who received seed on the good ground is he who hears the word, and understands it; who indeed bears fruit, and produces, some hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty."

- MATTHEW 13:23

Seed & Soil

GLORY BE TO GOD ONLY

All glory to God alone! We praise Him for the privilege of being used to bring glory to His name. The heart of this book, Seed and Soil, is to guide readers and writers into a deeper walk with God, rooted in His Word. Our prayer is that every heart becomes fertile soil ready to receive His truth, grow in His love, and bear lasting fruit for His Kingdom.

As Jesus calls us to be new creations, we long to walk in daily transformation through His grace. Changed by Him, we hope to become vessels through which others encounter His renewing power.

Behind each page are dedicated hearts of individuals who made space for God despite busy lives. Their obedience has inspired others to step forward in faith.

This journey reminds us that God can use anyone. No gift is too small when surrendered to Him. Offer what you have, He will multiply it for His glory.

We ask for your continued prayers. Let us lay aside the old, step boldly into the new, and build His Kingdom together.

Let His name alone be glorified!

Not Everything Is Beneficial

1 Corinthians 10:23 says, "I have the right to do anything," you say, but not everything is beneficial. "I have the right to do anything", but not everything is constructive.

We as Christians have many questions, like, Why should I not do this? Why shouldn't I go to the theatre or go out because all my friends are going? Yes, the Bible says we have the right to do whatever pleases us, but not everything we do is beneficial for us.

We see this clearly in the story of Adam and Eve, whom God loved after creating them. The Lord God commanded them in Genesis 2:17, "You must not eat from the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, for when you eat from it you will certainly die." Yet when the serpent approached Eve, she was deceived, and Adam also failed to obey the word of the Lord.

Genesis 3:24 tells us that after their disobedience, God drove them out of the Garden of Eden and placed cherubim and a flaming sword to guard the way to the tree of life. Because of their choice, they lost the place God had prepared for them.

Not Everything Is Beneficial

In the same way, the Bible says in John 14:3, "And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come back and take you to be with me that you also may be where I am." Still, we have free will to do what we want to do. As the serpent manipulated Eve, so too is it happening to us.

The reason for our fall is mostly our eyes, what we see and how we look at things. Eve looked at the fruit and said the fruit was delightful to look at. In the same way, we look at many things, and they seem so good, and we fall for them. But the Bible says in Matthew 6:22, "The eye is the lamp of the body. If your eyes are healthy, your whole body will be full of light."

It is in our hands. Let us pray and ask God to fill us with the Holy Spirit, as He is our helper to help us choose between right and wrong. And the Bible says in 1 Corinthians 10:31, "So whether you eat or drink or whatever you do, do it all for the glory of God." So whatever we do, let us think for a second, will it glorify God? Let this be in our conscience every time.

So we could be with our Saviour in the place He prepared for us. Adam and Eve might have fallen short, but let us glorify Him in whatever we do and be with our Saviour Jesus Christ forever and ever. Amen.

From Temple to Saviour's Touch

First, I thank Almighty God for this opportunity to share His miracles in my life. He chose me with purpose, as Jeremiah 1:5 declares: “Before I formed you in the womb I knew you, before you were born I set you apart.”

Born and raised in a Hindu family, I was a spiritual girl who visited the temple daily with my father. As their only daughter, his sudden demise four years ago shattered my world. Loneliness overwhelmed me; survival felt impossible.

Then, on Easter eve, God touched my broken heart during a program. His presence resurrected my spirit. I was speechless, tears streaming, feeling His love anew. That evening, I surrendered to Jesus, my Saviour, and began following Him.

Till today, He leads every moment as my sole companion, erasing loneliness. Like a father, He guards my health, fulfils my wishes, ensures my safety, and secures my future.

Psalm 23:1 reminds me, "The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want." His fruitful presence defies words.

If you're lonely or broken, turn to Jesus. He restores and companions eternally. Praise the Lord!

Righteous Path

“Do not be anxious about anything but in every situation, by prayer and petition with thanksgiving, present your requests to God.”

-Philippians 4: 6

We often see the situations happening around us, and we find it hard to have faith in His promises or even to pray. We begin to believe the world’s noise and fail to listen to God’s Word.

The Bible says that in every situation, which suggests the situation should not determine our relationship and faith in our Father, Jesus Christ.

We have to depend on God in every situation. Whenever we pray, we should believe that God can do miracles in our lives. There is nothing impossible for God.

And also let’s give thanks to God in advance. This shows our complete faith in God. We should speak to God openly. Do not hide anything from God. He wants to hear from us.

Prayer is a two-way communication. After we pray, we should wait to listen to God. He will speak. Give all our worries to God, He will help us and give us peace of mind.

Have a Blessed day!

Allowing God To Work Through You

"I have been crucified with Christ and I no longer live, but Christ lives in me." - Galatians 2:20

The heart of the gospel is not about what we can do for God, but about what God chooses to do through us when we surrender to Him. Often, we try to serve in our own strength, relying on our abilities, plans, and understanding. Yet true transformation happens only when we allow Christ to live and work through us.

Jesus never called us to be self-sufficient. He called us to abide in Him. When we submit our weaknesses, fears, and limitations to God, He fills those empty places with His power. The gospel reminds us that we are not the source. We are vessels. God is the one who brings change, healing, and hope through a yielded life.

Allowing God to work through us requires humility and trust. It means letting go of control and believing that His ways are higher than ours. When we choose obedience over comfort and faith over fear, God's presence becomes evident in our words, actions, and attitudes. Others begin to see Christ, not because we are perfect, but because He is at work within us.

Every act of love, every moment of patience, and every step of obedience becomes meaningful when it flows from Christ living in us. The gospel assures us that we are never alone in our calling. God works through willing hearts to reflect His glory.

Today, offer yourself anew to Him. Let your life be an instrument through which God reveals His grace to the world.

Redefining Greatness: A Call To Humble Service

Some of us are blessed with the opportunity to serve and work for God in one way or another. Have we ever thought about how this ministry for God is going to be? Are we doing the right thing? Ministry for God is not done by pastors, evangelists, etc., alone. Every one of us is a warrior of God when it comes to taking up their roles. These roles are not for status, but for preparing believers.

Matthew 20:26-28 "… whoever wants to become great among you must be your servant…" This verse stands as a skeleton to whoever takes up ministry, however small or big it might be. Jesus redefines greatness. We see in this modern world, people strive for power and position, but God redirects us, His believers, that power and position do not matter; it's about being humble in service. Jesus leads us on a path that he chose during his ministry, which is being humble.

The path of ministry is not a bed of roses. One might feel hard when you hit a roadblock and doubt their presence in that journey. Here's what God says: Jeremiah 1:5 "Before I formed you in the womb I knew you, before you were born I set you apart…" The call for ministry is always purposeful, as He set us apart from the others as he planned to prepare us to do His work. When we find out that purpose, we tend to change our approach towards God's ministry.

Never have the thought that even your small work is going unnoticed. God is our audience. Colossians 3: 23-34 "Whatever you do, work at it with all your heart, as working for the Lord, not for human masters…" Whatever small work we do never goes unseen in the eyes of the Lord. It's what fetches us inheritance as a reward.

Prayer: Dear Lord, Thank you for choosing me as a vessel for your ministry. Let the vessel be the bearer of the good news that you gave us. Help us continue this ministry despite the struggles that the world gives us. Let you be shown through us and help us reflect you in everything we do. Amen.

Completion Over Confusion

God gave us 24 hours a day; we might be doing our daily chores, we work around the clock, and toil a lot. But King Solomon writes in the book of Ecclesiastes that all work under the sun is complete vanity. Every day we meet people in our workplaces, shopping malls, gym and bus stops, we see people running behind some things. At the end of the day, we rest; we burn out. Is there any goal behind this run? Obviously, we know Life is a race filled with competition, but we lose sight of the fact that life is to be completed at one point. We try to compete with others, we fail, we confuse our minds and worry about the failure.

The Bible says in 2 Timothy 4:7, "I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith" Life is absolutely race, but there are two distinct sets of realm, earthly realm and the heavenly Realm. Mostly, we prepare ourselves for our earthly realm, especially for education, a particular job, but how are we preparing for our life in Heaven, where we worship our Lord face to face, who resurrected on the third day?

Matthew 6: 33 says, "But seek first the Kingdom and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added to you".

The above verse finishes the primary questions of Christian life. The first part says to seek His Kingdom instead of people, power and possessions. The second core of the verse is seeking the righteousness of Saviour Jesus Christ, not our own. As Christians, being a part of the church and the community, we have the self-righteousness deep inside our hearts. Which is a dangerous disease that spoils the fellowship among children of God. Instead, we need to seek the righteousness of God in this fallen world. Absolutely, the end result, as children of God, we inherit the rewards from the Kingdom of God, whatever we do with a good heart, mind and soul. Let's take a challenge in our daily lives to be heavenly-minded.

"Instead of focusing on Earthly matters, we focus on Heavenly Matters, which matter the most"

The First One Filled With The Holy Spirit

The very first man in the Bible to be filled with the Holy Spirit was not a king or a queen. It was neither King David, King Solomon, nor King Saul. It was not Moses, Joshua, or Caleb. Instead, it was an ordinary man named Bezaleel. God filled him with the Spirit of God, granting him wisdom, understanding, knowledge, and all manner of craftsmanship. He was endowed with the skill to work as an engraver, a skilled craftsman, and an embroiderer in blue, purple, scarlet, and fine linen. Bezaleel was also capable of weaving and creating intricate designs (Exodus 35:30-35).

The purpose of being filled with the Holy Spirit was to enable him to carry out the work required for God's temple. Similarly, 1 Corinthians 12 discusses the Holy Spirit and spiritual gifts: "Now there are diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit" (1 Corinthians 12:4). Each of us, as God's creation, is endowed with different gifts by our common Father and through the same Spirit. We are all parts of one body.

If you read 1 Corinthians 12, you will find that it speaks about various gifts and our interdependence on one another. Most importantly, we must understand that even if we are ordinary people like Bezaleel, God still pours out His Holy Spirit upon us to fulfil tasks for His glory.

Therefore, as followers of Christ, we should use even our small talents and gifts for His honour. Whether it is a simple hobby, our work, or the way we interact with others, let all that we do be for His glory. For it is written, Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God (1 Corinthians 10:31). For from him and through him and for him are all things. To him be the glory forever! Amen (Romans 11:36).

Repent, For The Kingdom Of Heaven Is At Hand

This message was preached by John the Baptist and Jesus Himself (Matthew 4:17)

Therefore, entering the Kingdom of Heaven must be the purpose of our lives. When we die, nothing from this world goes with us, not wealth, possessions, education, or relationships.

God has prepared two eternal destinations: the Kingdom of Heaven and the Lake of Fire. We are given the choice, and eternity demands careful decision- because tomorrow is not guaranteed.

The first step to enter the Kingdom is repentance.

Repentance means turning away from sin - examining our thoughts, words, and actions through God's Word, confessing our sins, and being cleansed by the blood of Jesus Christ, resulting in the joy of salvation.

Repentance is not a one-time act, but a daily commitment until the end (Matthew 10:22).

Many sins are hard to overcome, but the Holy Spirit- our Helper - dwells in us, convicts us through God's Word, and empowers us to turn away from sin through prayer.

- True repentance must bear fruit (Matthew 3:8):
- Fruit of the Spirit (Galatians 5:22–23)
- Righteousness and truth (Ephesians 5:9)
- Praise to God (Hebrews 13:15)

Satan will try to pull us back into old sins (2 Peter 2:22), so we must remain watchful. Every tree that does not bear good fruit will be cut down and thrown into the fire (Matthew 3:10). Beloved, let us repent, for the Kingdom of Heaven is near. Let us strive for holiness (Matthew 11:12) and share this truth with others. Amen.

Feeling Stuck In A Miry Clay?

Psalm 40:1, 2, 4

1. I waited patiently for the LORD; he turned to me and heard my cry.

2. He lifted me out of the slimy pit, out of the mud and mire; he set my feet on a rock and gave me a firm place to stand.

4. Blessed is the one who makes the LORD his trust, who does not look to the proud, to those who turn aside to false gods.

Have you ever felt trapped in miry clay, caught in circumstances that seem impossible to escape? Life can sometimes feel like a sticky quagmire: the more we struggle to free ourselves, the deeper we seem to sink. Every attempt to push our way out only leaves us more exhausted and stuck.

Miry clay is not something we can escape on our own. Like David, we need help beyond ourselves. The psalm reminds us that deliverance comes when we trust the Lord and patiently wait for His intervention. He is the one who lifts, sets our feet on solid ground, and gives us a firm place to stand.

In a deeper sense, all of us are stuck in miry clay, the mire of sin. No amount of good deeds, religious activities, church attendance, Bible studies, or visits to holy places can pull us out. Human effort, no matter how sincere, is not enough to save us.

But God, in His mercy, has made a way. He sent His Son, Jesus Christ, to die on the cross for our sins. When we place our trust in Him, He lifts us out of the mire and sets our feet on the Rock. Blessed is the one who makes the Lord his trust.

Set Your Heart

Are we still aligned with God's path? What are we focusing on these days?

Busy mornings, juggling family responsibilities, work and studies, managing finances, worrying about gold rates. life keeps us constantly occupied. In the midst of all this, let us pause for a moment.

In Ezra 7:10, the Word of the Lord says: "For Ezra had set his heart to study the Law of the Lord, and to do it, and to teach His statutes and rules in Israel."

Ezra first determined in his heart to prioritise the Word of the Lord. He chose to spend time studying it, meditating on it, listening when God spoke, and seeking God's guidance.

Second, Ezra did not stop at studying God's Word; he followed it. He obeyed the commands of the Lord and allowed God's Word to shape his daily life.

Third, he committed himself to teaching God's Word to others.

The lesson for us from Ezra is clear: we are called to set our hearts on Christ. Amid all our daily responsibilities, let us intentionally make time for God to meditate on His Word, to seek His guidance, to listen to His voice, and to receive the strength to live according to His will in our everyday circumstances.

When we commit our hearts to Christ, He enters our hearts and transforms us from within. Our thoughts change, our actions change, and our lives begin to reflect Him. This inner transformation is how we reveal Christ to those who journey with us in everyday life.

Therefore, let us set our hearts toward the Word of the Lord. Amen.

Bring It All!

No detail of your life is too small for God. We often think God is concerned only with the "big" matters. The life-changing decisions, major crises, and impossible situations. But the Bible shows us a very different picture: God is deeply involved in both the grand and the ordinary. Jesus said, "Are not five sparrows sold for two pennies? Yet not one of them is forgotten by God." (Luke 12:6)

The same God who parted the Red Sea is also the One who notices a sparrow fall. He who raised Lazarus from the grave also counts the hairs on our heads. He fed five thousand with a small boy's lunch and still provides our daily bread. He spoke the universe into existence, yet He listens to the quietest prayer. He defeated Goliath with a shepherd's stone and calmed the storms in our hearts. He turns water into wine at a wedding and brings comfort in a single tear. The same Lord who rules nations also walks with us in our ordinary moments, reminding us that no detail of our life is too small, and no burden is too big, for His care

What seems small to us is never small to God.

There is no situation too great for Him, and there is no detail too minor to escape His care. Jesus said, "Even the very hairs of your head are all numbered."(Luke 12:7)

Your worries, your silent prayers, your unnoticed efforts, your tired days, your small victories, they all matter to Him. God is not only the Lord of miracles; He is the God of moments.

Sometimes we wait to bring only the "important" things to God and carry the "small" burdens ourselves. But Scripture teaches us: "Cast all your anxiety on Him because He cares for you." (1 Peter 5:7). All means all.

He Transforms Our Hearts And Minds

Jeremiah 17:9-10. [9] The heart is more deceitful than anything else and incurable—who can understand it? [10] I, the Lord, examine the mind; I test the heart to give to each according to his way, according to what his actions deserve.

From this, we can understand that God is always analysing our hearts and minds. Whatever we think in our day-to-day lives, He also rewards us based on our deeds.

We may perceive that no one knows what we think about others, but that is not the reality. So how can we escape from the deceitful heart and mind? As it is said in Psalms 119:11, I have hidden your word in my heart that I might not sin against you.

How closely we stay connected to God's word and its commands will surely help us and prevent us from wandering down the wrong paths in our lives. In Ezekiel 36:26, God speaks about how He transforms our hearts and minds:

“I will give you a new heart, and a new spirit I will put within you. And I will remove the heart of stone from your flesh and give you a heart of flesh.”

The question is: Are we willing to change ourselves, or are we okay with having a hard heart that is unfeeling, stubborn, wounded, sinful, or spiritually dead? Are we ready to accept the new heart and mind, and the new spirit that God is willing to give us? A heart that is soft, alive, humble, and willing to love God, obey Him, forgive others, and feel compassion.

Rest In The Storm

“Peace I leave with you; My peace I give you. I do not give to you as the world gives. Do not let your hearts be troubled and do not be afraid.” (John 14:27)

Chaos often comes uninvited. It doesn’t ask if we’re ready. It simply breaks in through uncertainty. The world’s idea of peace is the absence of problems. But Jesus offers something deeper: peace that exists even when the storm refuses to stop.

Notice, Jesus didn’t say He would remove all trouble. He said, “My peace I give you.” This peace is not dependent on circumstances aligning or life becoming stable. It is anchored in His presence. When everything around us feels loud and confusing, God doesn’t shout over the noise; He whispers peace into the heart that turns toward Him.

You may feel like life is unsettled right now, like you’re standing in the middle of unanswered “whys.” But peace is not found in having clarity; it is found in trusting the One who sees the whole picture. Even in chaos, God remains ordered, intentional, and close.

When your mind feels restless, pause and consciously invite God into that moment. Replace the question “Why is this happening?” with “Lord, help me rest in You right now.”

Remember, peace is not something you achieve; it’s something you receive.

I Am The Resurrection And The Life

John 11:25 says, "Jesus said to her, 'I am the resurrection and the life. The one who believes in me will live, even though they die.'"

Life has a way of confronting us with moments we don't expect, loss, disappointment, fear, and questions we don't have answers to. In John 11, Martha is standing in grief. Her brother Lazarus is dead. Jesus does not begin with explanations or timelines. Instead, He speaks a powerful truth about who He is: "I am the resurrection and the life."

Jesus does not say He gives resurrection or shows life. He says He is resurrection and life. That means hope is not just something we wait for in the future; hope is a Person who stands with us right now. When everything feels final, when doors seem permanently closed, Jesus reminds us that nothing is truly over in His presence.

This verse speaks not only about physical death but also about the many "deaths" we experience daily: dead dreams, broken relationships, lost confidence, spiritual dryness, and emotional exhaustion. Jesus meets us in those places, too. Believing in Him does not mean we will never face pain or loss. It means that pain and loss will never have the final word.

For adults carrying responsibilities, regrets, and silent struggles, this promise is deeply comforting. Even when we feel spiritually tired or emotionally empty, Jesus offers life that renews from within. He breathes hope into weary hearts and brings meaning where we see only endings.

Today, let this verse remind you that your story is still in God's hands. What feels dead to you is not beyond His power. Trusting Jesus does not remove sorrow, but it fills sorrow with hope. Because when Christ is present, even the grave becomes a place where life can begin again.

God Never Changes

Between the years 640 BC to 608 BC, the prophet Zephaniah spoke to the people of Israel. He warned them of God's judgment, but he also reminded them of God's promise for their future.

"The LORD your God is in your midst, a mighty one who will save; he will rejoice over you with gladness; he will quiet you by his love; he will exult over you with singing." - Zephaniah 3:17

We aren't the people of Israel in 640 BC hearing this, but, as students of God's Word, we can also find comfort in Zephaniah's words.

We know that God came into our midst through Jesus and that He gave us His Spirit when we believed (John 1:14; Galatians 4:6). We also know that we are deeply loved by God (1 John 4:16). Paul teaches that the peace of God will guard our hearts and minds in Christ Jesus when we pray to Him (Philippians 4:6-7).

So, although we are not Zephaniah's original audience, we can find comfort in knowing that God is the same throughout all generations. He is still in our midst, He still actively rescues people, He still rejoices over us, and He still covers His children with His unending love.

He is still our mighty God, and He cares for those who come and call on Him.

So today, take some time to thank God for His faithfulness and reflect on His unchanging character. Then, re-read Zephaniah 3:17 and speak that verse out loud over yourself and your family.

The Truth Shall Set You Free

For it is by believing in your heart that you are made right with God." - Roman.s 10:10. "But to all who received Him, who believed in His name, He gave the power to become the children of God." - John 1:12

Belief is the doorway to salvation. Before actions change, before lives transform, something happens quietly in the heart we believe. John 3.36 says He who believes in the Son has eternal life. The way to eternity starts with the simple belief in our hearts. Not perfection, not strength, not performance. Just belief.

Because belief is so powerful, it is also the main battlefield of our lives, and the weapon the enemy uses against us is lies. 1 Peter 5:8 says, "Be alert and of sober mind. Your enemy, the devil, prowls around like a roaring lion looking for someone to devour." He eats us from within. He devours our minds. He plants lies in our thoughts until they grow into beliefs. He screams in our mind that we are not good enough, not strong enough, not beautiful enough, not smart enough, too sinful to be loved by God; he fills us with shame and guilt. Over time, these lies take root and begin to shape how we see ourselves, God, and our future.

But God is saying to you today is "You shall know the truth, and the truth shall set you free." Remain in God's word for it is the undeniable truth, and it will break the chains of deception that enslave our hearts. We are chosen, forgiven, loved and treasured by God. He has called us to live in truth and freedom. We belong to Him, and He restores our identity when we choose to believe in His truth.

Today, be intentional about what you believe, because it has the power to change the trajectory of our calling. Take every thought captive and bring it under the authority of Christ. Do not allow the enemy's lies to become your truth. Instead, invite the Holy Spirit to guide you into truth.

Always remember this above all else: you are a child of God. He carries you on His shoulders, and He will never let you down.

LET THIS TRUTH SINK IN

16 February 2026

Fear vs Faith

Most days, fear tries to control our thoughts, fear of the future, failure, sickness, or people's opinions. When fear rises, we often forget that God is still in control.

Fear is not a sign of weakness; it simply reminds us that we are human. Even the people of God in the Bible experienced fear.

The real question is not whether we feel fear, but who we trust when fear appears. Fear magnifies the problem and minimises God.

It speaks in "what ifs" and never tells the full story, especially the part where God is already at work.

God's Word reminds us in Isaiah 41:10 that we do not need to fear, because He is with us, strengthening us, helping us, and holding us steady.

When God is with us, strength replaces weakness, hope replaces anxiety, and peace replaces panic.

And God personally reassures us in Isaiah 41:13: "Do not fear; I will help you."

Today, choose faith over fear because the hand that holds the universe is holding yours, too.

Transformation - A New Mind, A New Life

Romans 12:2 says, "Do not conform to the pattern of this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind." Transformation is not about trying harder; it's about becoming different from the inside. The world constantly pressures us to think, speak, and live a certain way.

It tells us what success should look like, what beauty should be, and what happiness should feel like. Without realising it, many people slowly become shaped by the world's patterns, fear, pride, lust, greed, comparison, and selfishness. But God offers a different way.

Romans 12:2 shows that real change begins in the mind. When the mind is renewed, the life is transformed. As we spend time in God's Word, worship, and prayer, God begins to replace old thoughts with truth. He removes lies with His promises. He replaces anxiety with peace, bitterness with forgiveness, and confusion with clarity.

To be transformed means we stop living according to worldly habits and start reflecting Christ. The more we renew our minds with God's truth, the more we begin to discern His will - what is good, pleasing, and perfect.

Transformation is not instant perfection, but steady progress. It's the Holy Spirit shaping us daily, helping us grow into the person God has called us to be. Your transformation becomes your testimony. People may not understand how you changed, but they will see the evidence of God's power in your life.

Prayer: Father, renew my thoughts daily by Your Spirit. Break every influence of the world in me and shape my life to reflect Christ. Guide my steps in Your perfect will, and let everything I do honour You. Amen.

Live In The Realm Of Now

Most people in this era often live their lives in either past or the future. At times, they recall something that happened in the past and keep regretting it every day, in other times, they overthink and get anxious about the future and forget that they can still live in the moment and change so many things. The Bible says in Matthew:6:27 Can any of you add a single hour to your life by worrying and in Matthew 6:34, it says Therefore do not worry about tomorrow.

There is a saying, "Enjoy the journey, not the destination". We often miss living in the moment by putting so much pressure on ourselves by comparing and looking at others. Not even a single second gone can be replaced, and even if we overthink about the future, we can't live in the future. But we can change the future by living the best in the moment. We must learn to trust God with the future. Matthew: -10:29 onwards it says Are not two sparrows sold for a penny? Yet not one of them will fall to the ground outside your father's care. And even the very hairs of your head are all numbered. So don't be afraid; you are worth more than many sparrows.

Similarly, when God gives a promise, one can't receive it only by dreaming of it day and night. Instead have to focus on living in the moment and aligning oneself with the purpose of life; by doing so, the promise will come to pass at God's right timing.

Living in the Realm of now is only possible if we trust God in everything. We know what Abraham did, by hearing one word from God, he chose to start his journey to promise land, even though he didn't know where it was. When the angel told him that Sarah would conceive, he chose to trust God. It shows that God will remain faithful to those who trust him. So let's learn to trust God and live peacefully in the moment.

Seeds Of Promise

Isaiah 55:11- "So is My word that goes out from My mouth: It will not return to Me empty, but will accomplish what I desire and achieve the purpose for which I sent it."

God's Word is not like human words that may be spoken in emotion and forgotten with time. When God speaks, His Word carries power, purpose, and certainty. Isaiah 55:11 assures us that every promise God releases is already set in motion to accomplish what He intends. Even when we cannot see immediate change, His Word is quietly working.

Those who sow seeds do not expect to see a harvest the same day. After sowing, the soil may look unchanged, but beneath the surface, the seed is alive, growing roots, preparing to break through. In the same way, when God speaks a promise over your life, whether it is healing, restoration, guidance, or provision, it may seem invisible at first. But God's Word is alive, and it is working in ways we cannot yet see.

God's Word says, "I will instruct you and teach you in the way you should go" (Psalm 32:8). Over time, doors begin to open, clarity increases, and peace replaces confusion. Looking back, the person realises that God's Word was guiding them all along.

God's Word never returns empty; it always fulfils His purpose at the right time. His Word will surely accomplish what He intends and will bear fruit at the right time.

Have a Blessed Day!

Being In A Lukewarm State?

In Revelation 3 verse 14, "lukewarm water" is a metaphor used to describe people who are neither fully committed to faith in Jesus nor blatantly disobey him in an open manner.

They aren't fully prepared to serve God, but they don't actively deny God. They are in a state of sitting on a fence between two, but never choose one.

The consequences for this are devastating, as God says He will completely reject and deny them eternal life ("spit you out of my mouth") if they continue in this state.

We as Christians must be aware of our very own spiritual state, as it is one of the most dangerous places to be in. We attend church, sing songs, and pray every day as a habit, but we also lack the conviction to profess Christ to those who don't know him and play with sin, thinking we have a God who is merciful and forgiving.

We think a prayer at the end of the day will atone for all our sins in which we indulged happily, that full commitment to battle sin is not necessary and that we can compensate for the sins committed with other good deeds.

Jesus says in Matthew 7: 21-23 " Not everyone who says to me, 'Lord, Lord,' will enter the kingdom of heaven, but only the one who does the will of my Father who is in heaven"

So, as followers of Christ, we need to examine our faith to see if we are actually true followers of Him and take a bold stand for Christ. We will fall many times, but the conviction we have to serve Christ, His grace to strengthen us, to hate sin, and the love we have for Him will help us rise again.

Fear Not!

Fear has taken most of our time in our lives. We experience various kinds of fear: fear of failure, fear of losing, fear of being alone, etc. But do all these fears really matter? Does God expect us to be stressed and anxious about these fears?

When we think about it, all these are worldly expectations that are set upon us. It hinders our spiritual growth because we tend to become more focused on the temporary worldly struggles.

Luke 1:13 says, “Do not be afraid, your prayer has been heard."

Here, the angel of the lord appears before Zechariah and assures him that his prayer has been heard and his request will be granted.

In the same way, we are to submit our prayers on all kinds of challenges and struggles that we face in this world to our Heavenly Father, who always cares for us. He also assures that our prayers are always heard and will be fulfilled.

With this hope that our Loving Father gave us, let us trust him in all our circumstances and submit our burdens and fears into his hands through prayer. Have faith that our father will protect us from all kinds of evil and danger.

Have a Blessed Day!

Such A Time As This

In Esther chapter 4:14, Mordecai says to Esther, "And who knows but that you have come to a royal position for such a time as this?"

In our lives, God places us exactly where we are, not to merely exist but to execute His plan. Our profession, our department, the people around us, everything occurred in His appointed time.

We often have this question, Why, Lord Why did You place me in this place or in this job. At times, we may expect a person like Mordecai to come to us to reveal or help us understand God's calling.

The Bible says that the Holy Spirit is our Helper. Just as Mordecai guided Esther to deliver her people, Esther interceded for the Jews and God's favour was upon her.

In the same way, we are on a mission. There are people and lives whom God wants to deliver through us. But for that, we need the Holy Spirit within us. He will guide us in what to do and what to speak, and He will equip us so that through us He will deliver those who are in darkness.

By this, we are no more special than others. As it says in Matthew, Out of these stones God can raise up children for Abraham. So if not through me, then through someone else. What God has planned, He will surely bring it to pass.

So let us surrender ourselves to Him so that we may be used to build His kingdom. Amen.

In All The In-Betweens

When do you talk to Jesus? We give Him thanks for all the big victories, and run to Him when we feel small. But what about all the times in between? Do you tell Him how pretty you thought those butterflies were? He made them. Do you talk to Him about how you didn't understand that lecture, and how you wished you did? He can help.

As much as Jesus wants to be with us in our highs and lows, He wants to be with us in all the in-betweens as well. Those days when you're not feeling anything in particular, it's important to still tell Him about the little details in your life. He listens better than anyone else could.

Here's something I read the other day, which I'd like to share.

I think friendship with Jesus is talking with Him about the flowers that grow on the side of the road, and the one's He's been growing in you;
asking Him which route to take to the shop
and which route to take in your life
It includes Him in all the moments living like He's right there with you because He is, Oh, how He is.

-Brittany Litser, Praying Outside.

Today, try to be a little more intentional in talking to Jesus, including Him in all your small moments.

I Thessalonians 5: 16, 17
Rejoice always, pray without ceasing.

Thankfullness

Let me say first that I thank my God through Jesus Christ for all of you, because your faith in Him is being talked about all over the world.”- Romans 1:8

How often do we pause to truly say thank you to God?

Is it often or only when life feels easy?

There are moments when we forget to thank Him, and in those moments, it becomes hard to see all that God has already done in our lives. Gratitude reminds us that we are not self-made; it cultivates humility by helping us recognise that everything we have comes from Him.

Thanking God also strengthens our faith. When everything feels like it’s falling apart, a thankful heart helps us trust Him even when we don’t understand His plans. Gratitude lifts our eyes from our problems and helps us see the bigger picture through God’s eyes, not just our own.

Thankfulness softens our hearts and drives out fear. Paul was thankful for the faith of the believers in Rome because he could see that God was at work within them. This teaches us that even a small growth in our lives is worth being grateful for. Every good thing we have today is a gift from God.

Let us practice gratitude daily because gratitude keeps us rooted in love, filled with joy, and growing stronger in faith.

What are the things you are grateful for today?

When we thank God often, our faith grows, and in the future, we will find ourselves with even more reasons to thank Him.

Full Of Faith, Power And The Holy Spirit

Acts 7:55- But he (Stephen), being full of the Holy Spirit, gazed into heaven and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing at the right hand of God. Stephen was one of the seven men of good reputation, full of the Holy Spirit and wisdom, chosen to help the disciples. Notice how the Bible describes him as a man full of faith, power and the Holy Spirit, enabling him to do great wonders and signs among the people; so powerful that the ones who disputed with the Truth were not able to resist the wisdom and the Spirit by which he spoke. They stirred up the people and set up false witnesses to speak against Stephen, to be delivered to the council

Did that stop Stephen? No! He boldly voiced out what he believed and called out their sins. He was eventually martyred, and when you read the verse above carefully (it gave me goosebumps!), unlike the other times where it is mentioned that Jesus is "seated" at the right hand of God, it says Stephen saw Jesus "standing" at the right hand of God. What a beautiful picture of a standing ovation, a divine acknowledgement and welcome of Stephen into the arms of the One Who laid down His life, for all sinners like you and me, and rose again!

Psalms 116:15 Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of His saints. Our tomorrow is in God's hands. We don't know when our race on earth will be over. And not all of us like Stephen may be martyred for our faith. But we can choose to carry our cross daily, to die to our flesh and live as a witness for Christ, being faithful in the little and big things He has entrusted us with. Such power comes within us when we believe in Jesus as our personal Saviour, enjoying sweet fellowship with Him each day, and being Spirit-led.

Let's pray with faith, for boldness to do what is right, and share the love of Christ and the good news of our risen Saviour, as we await His return, to see Him with open arms and hear Him say "Well done, good and faithful servant; you were faithful over a few things, I will make you ruler over many things. Enter into the joy of your lord"

Heart Wholly Devoted To God

"Let your heart therefore be wholly devoted to the LORD our God…" (1 Kings 8:61). This verse calls us to a life of complete devotion and surrender, not partial service or occasional faith, but a heart fully turned toward God in every thought and action.

A renewed heart is not merely religious; it is transformed. It chooses undivided loyalty to God above all else, cherishing God's presence more than approval from people or success in the world. This kind of devotion echoes the greatest commandment to love the Lord our God with all our heart, soul, and strength.

Such a heart obeys not out of fear, but out of love. Obedience becomes a delight, a natural outflow of intimacy with Him. In the quiet chambers of obedience, we discover holiness not as a burden, but as a beautiful reflection of the One who made us.

Yet devotion is more than inward transformation; it flows outward in love for others. A heart wholly devoted to God cannot help but love God's people, showing kindness, mercy, and grace in tangible ways.

Today, let us examine our hearts. Are we holding anything back? God desires our whole heart. In surrendering it fully to Him, we discover freedom, purpose, and an ever-deepening walk with Christ, the only One worthy of our total devotion.

Prayer: Lord, renew my heart. Take all that I am and make me wholly devoted to You. Amen.

In His Time

In a world full of timelines, where social media shows careers taking off by age 30, marriages starting in the twenties, and money piling up fast, it's easy to look at others and feel way behind.

In Psalm 31:15, David says, "My times are in Your hands." David wrote this while facing enemies, betrayal and hard times, but he gave his schedule to God. This verse is not just nice words; it's real help. It says your life's timing is not by chance or too slow, but it's safe in God's hands.

Think about how God works: He is never in a hurry like a busy boss, never sloppy like a bad friend and always right on time, never too soon or too late. What feels late to us often has a good reason in His plan.

Look at Bible heroes: Abraham waited 25 years for his son Isaac after God's promise; Joseph spent 13 years as a slave and in jail before ruling Egypt; even Jesus came to earth at the exact right moment planned long ago. Their waits built strong character, brought help at the perfect time and showed God's power. Your delay in a job raise, finding a spouse, getting a stable job, or growing in faith? It might be God shaping you to be tough, wise and close to Him.

When you feel bad from comparing, stop and say: "My times are in Your hands." Let go of jealousy and schedules that are not yours. God sees the whole picture; every wait turns into something great. He is writing your story, better than any online post, at just the right speed for big results. Trust Him; He is not done. What seems like a side road now leads to your future purpose. Hand over your "when" to His care, and worry will turn to hope.

Alive On Paper, Alive In Practice

“So you also must consider yourselves dead to sin and alive to God in Christ Jesus.” Romans 6:11. Days when God feels distant, when our thoughts are messy, when we replay the same failures and quietly wonder if we’ve slipped out of alignment with Him. On those days, being “alive to God” feels fragile, conditional, almost earned.

But Paul doesn’t frame being alive in that way. To be alive unto God is not a mood or a spiritual scorecard. It is a shared reality. Romans 6 insists that our life with God is inseparable from the resurrection of Jesus. We are not only united with Him in His death, buried, forgiven, and released, but also in His being raised. And Christ, having been raised, does not toggle between life and death. He died once. He lives forever. Death has no more claim on Him.

That’s where the ground steadies. If our spiritual life were anchored to our consistency, we’d be exhausted trying to keep it alive. But Paul shifts the question entirely. He doesn’t ask us to inspect our feelings or measure our performance. He asks us to consider something already true. Not to imagine it, not to fake it, but to agree with God’s accounting.

So, the question isn’t, “Do I feel alive to God today?” It’s, “Is Christ alive today?” And if Christ is alive today, as the unchanged, undefeated, reigning Lord that He is, then our life in Him is not suspended by a bad week, a dull prayer life, or a familiar struggle. Our identity is tethered to His resurrection, not by our fluctuation. This doesn’t make sin harmless or obedience optional. It makes them have consequences. We don’t obey to become alive. We obey because we are alive. We don’t fight sin to earn resurrection life. Rather, we fight from within it.

To be alive unto God is to wake up each day and embrace the stubborn truth that our spiritual reality is anchored in a resurrection that neither rises nor falls. Christ lives. And because He lives, so do we fully, permanently, and without fine print.
